We had got, as near as I can reckon, about three miles past the hill, when, for the fifth or sixth time, we lost the gig before as behind a bendin the read. Mr. Purkiss pulled up A Communication from Prof. A. Winsuddenly when this sight met his eyes -He knew no more than myself what to make of it. Oldwink certainly was gone -the mare certainly was gone; but why leave Mrs. Oblivink in that beartless manner to meet her fate alone? And why did that eccentric lady appear so perfectly unmoved at being thus unceremously deserted?

savagely at me, for me, for he was evidently out of temper at last, "Why, for you, I take the liberty to communiwhat a stupid you must be! Don't you cate them. see, man, that when Oldwink halted close to breathe the mare as we thought, he did it to give his wife an opportunity of sula of our State: making off into the wood with the jewelry? This thing was then dressed up, and were enticed forward as far as this spot, in order to give the woman an opportunity of getting clear away. And now, to finish the affair, Oldwink has made off with your mare across the country, and will meet his wife at some place agreed on, twenty or thirty miles away from this. Well, he's a slippery customer and no mistake!"

Further pursuit was useless for the present, even if we had known which road Oldwink had taken; and very down in the mouth we both looked as we turned our faces back to Deepwood, which we did not reach till far into night.

What my wife had to say to me about this little affair when I got home, need not be set down here. And the wigging she gave Jim! Poor old girl! it served her to talk about for many a month after, so that I found it best after a while to colored satin gown.

I have nothing more to add, except that Mr. Oldwink and his wife were taken at Liverpool some three months after by Mr. Purkiss; for some years after which event they were both cared for at the expense of an enlightened public.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY IN WISCONSIN .-The Milwaukis News, of the 6th inst., says: "Judging from the returns already received from this State, in our opinion Dixon is elected Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin by at least five thousand majority! Large democratic gains are shown all over the State, while it is but in very few instances that the republican vote has been increased." The News adds :

"The principle involved in the contest was the Union and the Constitution, with Judge Dixon as the standard-bearer, on the one hand, and nullification, represented by Judge Sloan, on the other. The ed by stage Stoan, of the of more plain 257 simple rule of addition is not more plain 257 than is the fact that the only principle involved in this contest was one of obedience or disobedience to the laws of the Union. We care not what may have been the political antecedents of Judge Dixon; it was sufficient for the democratic party to know, in giving him its support, that he stood upon Union grounds | 473 -that he respected the laws of his country-that he had proved himself an honest, capable, fearless and upright indge. As such, he reflected the opinions of the democratic party; he was therefore its standard-bearer, and upon this issue fighting its battles.

"Wisconsin is returning to her loyalty to the Union-we feel it-we know it and the reflection cheers every heart, and vibrates throughout the entire length and breadth of the Wisconsin Democrocy."

ANOTHER OBERLIN SENSATION .- On Monday last a negro arrived in Oberlin and begged refuge and protection, claiming that he was a fugitive slave from Kentucky. As some suspicion existed as to his being a genuine fugitive, he was taken before the Mayor for examination. The Mayor, after a close examination, could not decide whether the negro was a facitive or not, and declined having any thing farther to do with the case. negro left the Mayor's office, but had no ner reached the street than he was seized by a gang of negroes, some thirty 309 in all, who stripped him and cowhided him until the blood spirted from his face, back and breast in torrents. He was 399 then released and told to leave town at once. He started, but the black brutes, not satisfied with whipping him almost to death's door, pursued him for two miles, with clubs and stones and hideous yells. The ringleader in this brotal affairs was Evans, a negro and one of the notorious Oberlin rescuers. We receive these particulars from reliable citizens of Oberlin who witnessed the transaction. Oberlin is completely in the hands of the negroes, and their rule, like that of Hayti and other places where blacks are in power, is us, despotic and brutal. - Cleveland
